

Message from "Go Global" Assistant, Isaac / The University of Montana

Hello fellow students! My name is Isaac LaRowe and I'm from Montana. Where is Montana? It is in America! I'm an exchange student from The University of Montana. I'm studying abroad at Doshisha University for a lot of reasons. The first and foremost being the fact that this university is blessed with being in one of the most culture rich areas in Japan, Kyoto. Kyoto might not seem that special to people from the Kansai area, but compared to where I am from, this is truly a magical city. My first priority is to have fun and gain great new experiences. Though of course I also have academic goals while I'm here as well, namely learning Japanese. I believe making friends and learning about a new culture while studying abroad is a top priority. With that in mind I hope all kinds of students come to talk to me in the Learning Commons about studying abroad, as it truly is a great experience. I know before studying abroad myself, I wanted someone to talk to about everything. With the Go Global Assistants like myself, students are not restricted to just filling out application papers. Come talk to me! I would be happy to talk about anything.
